BE SENSIBLE!

When a dog reaches 16 years, it is equivalent to 112 years for a human being, and that is a very good age. If the dog is ailing, their isn't much a vet can do to prolong its life.

No matter how much you love a pet, it can't live forever, and if you are sensible you will be resigned to the inevitable.

To single out one doctor and defame his character after having tried other Veterinary doctors without success is leaving yourself open to suit.

Fred Preller Campaigns For Higher Jurors' Fees

Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, Queens Republican, reopened his legislative campaign to increase jurors' fees to $6 per day in New York City.

"Conscientious Jurors" the Queens lawmaker asserted, "continue to receive the mere pittance of $3 per day for jury service, although the Halpern-Preller law of 1950 permits the payment of up to $6 per day."

The 1950 law states that the New York City Council "May direct that a sum not exceeding $6" be paid to jurors. The new Preller bill changes the word "may" to "shall."

"The New York City Council" Preller stated, "has not seen fit to increase Jurors' fees beyond $3 per day, but it did not hesitate to increase the salaries of its members and other City officials along with voting billion dollar budgets and new nuisance taxes."

"Many wage earners, serving as jurors, have suffered financial loss because of the Council's inaction, hence my bill which mandates that a higher fee be paid."

CITY COUNCIL REPORT Bridge and Expressway

The proposals of the Triborough Bridge Authority to erect a new bridge from Throggs Neck in the Bronx to Beechhurst in Queens, together with a new Expressway from Queens Exit of the Bridge to Horace Harding Blvd. have met with almost unanimous opposition by people in Queens. The suggested route from the Bridge to Horace Harding Blvd. necessitates condemnation of a great deal of some of the finest residential property in our borough. Estimates of the condemnation costs have run into many millions of dollars, all to be borne by the City. An alternate available route along the Belt Parkway would not result in destroying one residence. In view of this fact, it is hard to justify the Authority's expressed intention to insist upon their original route.

Under the alternate plan, the City of New York would not have to pay tremendous condemnation costs and would not lose yearly revenue from the properties now on the tax rolls and the people would not lose their homes. I urge all civic-minded groups and home owners to convey their opposition to the original route to their Councilmen and to the Mayor and members of the Board of Estimate. The City Council has it within its power to defeat this measure for it will require approval by two-thirds of the City Council members. The Councilmen, therefore, have an opportunity to truly represent the people who elected them by voting "no" on this proposal and can take one step in the right direction to belie the accusations that they are "ruber-stamps" for an Administration.

"THAT'S MY BOY"

"A three-act comedy entitled 'That's My Boy' will be presented by the Senior Luther League members of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Bellerose Friday evening, May 13 and Saturday evening, May 14. This three-act comedy deals with a case of mistaken identities. The action waxes fast and furious as one funny situation follows another funny situation.

Many well-known Bellerose young people are taking part in the play including Skip Hansen, Suzie Sahl, Betty Bantel, Alice Young, Susan Cook, Fred Schumacher, Nancy Gunderson, Phyllis Lewis, Dunning May, Lillian Michalovic, Al Engler, Al Paquette, Marilyn Ficken and Scotty Andrus. The entire production is being directed by George Manos who directed the successful three-act comedy, "Tomboy," which the young people of Holy Trinity presented last year.

We hope many of the friends of Holy Trinity will attend on of the performances."

SCHOOL DAYS

BY TEACHER

The Good Versus The Bad

So much has been said and written lately about teenage crime that the tendency to lump all youth in an unfavorable category has become widespread. All teenagers are by no means criminal or criminally inclined. The majority of them are fine thorough going youngsters who are passing through a very difficult phase of life wherein they are not really children nor yet adults. Because of the confusion often experienced in this phase the reactions of some youths often seem overt. It is during this period that they react to responsibility much as younger children do, but at the same time they tend to demand the rights of adults. For the youngster between thirteen and eighteen this is a period of conflict during which he becomes a trial to his family and a plague to himself.

Nevertheless even the non-criminal type of teenager often contributes much toward the delinquency of his peers. He does this because he is afraid of gang opinion, ostracism by the gang or even the infliction of physical pain. The following is a case in point.

One Saturday evening, just before nine o'clock, an oldster remarked to a fifteen year old boy that the streets seemed unusually quiet and deserted.

"They better be completely deserted by nine thirty," the youth replied.

"Why?"

"A gang from X Village is coming over here to fight the gang in our village and they'll tear the place apart." The boy was evidently worried or he wouldn't have confided in the oldster.

"Why are they coming?" asked the oldster.

"One of our gang took the girl friend of one of X's gang to the movies last week."

"Why should that cause a fight? The girl wouldn't have gone if she hadn't wanted to."

"But the fellow in our village had no right to ask the girl out because she was going 'steady' with the fellow in X Village."

"How old are the girl and boy?"

"The girl is fifteen and the boy is sixteen."

"What right have boys and girls of that age got to 'go steady'? They should be free to go out with whom ever they please."

"But that's not the way it's done today," the youngster informed the oldster. "All the girls go steady with some one today."

A week later the oldster made a point of seeing the teenager again.

"Did the fight take place?" was the question asked.

"Well the two gangs met and decided to let the two fellows fight it out between themselves."

"Sort of a man to man affair. Well that's better than gang warfare, but it was still wrong. Were you there?"

"Oh! Sure."

"Why didn't you stay home?"

"Oh! I wanted to all right, but I couldn't. The gang would call me 'chicken' and I wouldn't have a friend in the world around here."

"Nonsense."

"Honor bright. I might even get beaten if I didn't show up."

"What kind of homes do these boys come from?"

"Good homes. Some of them even have cars. Only a few of us work for our spending money."

The oldster pondered. Here apparently was a group of fairly good boys banded together under the leadership of a few mail-fisted bullies and like most of their elders didn't have the courage to pull away. Why should young people be afraid of being called 'chicken,' when they wish to do what is right? It takes a lot of spunk these days for teenage boys and girls to stand up to derision and even violence for the sake of right and justice.

What Is Wrong?

Somewhere along the line the teenager who wants to do right is not being given the proper ideals and the type of instruction that will enable him to assert his desire to do what he thinks is right. Are the schools failing the youth? Not by a long shot. Schools have guidance lessons, guidance text books and special guidance counselors who put the matter plainly before the youth of today, but somehow youth refuses to be guided. Are the churches failing? No, for they have all sorts of youth clubs and cooperate with organizations such as the Scouts in order to raise the moral standards of today's youth. In addition there are the "Y's" the 4-H clubs, police directed athletic leagues and a host of others striving to uplift the ethical and cultural tone of teenagers.

But what is the home doing. Is Grandfather still bragging about breaking the law during the days of prohibition experiment? Is Father boasting of how he got away with a traffic violation or cheated on his income tax returns? Is Mother laying the law down to fifteen eyars old Susie that going 'steady' with any boy is OUT or is she encouraging it on the grounds that she thinks it is 'cute.'

Teachers, clergymen, youth leaders and the police are working in vain if parents do not cooperate by insisting and seeing to it that the usually good child does not contribute to the delinquency of his peers through fear of ridicule. Parents must teach their children to have the courage to lift their voices in protest over wrongdoing in which they have neither the desire nor inclination to take part.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. Morris J. Klein announces he will resume his Dental Practice for the convenience of his patients at 84-57 250th Street on Wednesday and Friday by appointment.

ACCIDENTS

There are almost as many accidents in the home as there are in all other places combined—on the highway, in industry and out in public. Each year some 29,000 people lose their lives, more than 4 million are injured and over 100,000 permanently disabled—all in that cozy little booby trap we call home. — Northwestern Bell, hm, Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

We are always glad to discuss

Prescription prices

● Now and again, when your Doctor prescribes one of the newer specialties, we are obliged to assess a price which may seem "pretty steep." In such cases we shall appreciate an opportunity to discuss this very important matter with you.

In general, however, let us explain that many of these newer specialties represent large sums invested in research. This money must be recovered, so that the March of Medicine can go on to still greater discoveries. It is the common practice of the leading laboratories to reduce the cost of these specialties as rapidly as possible. (This is demonstrated in the radically reduced costs of penicillin, the sulfa drugs and a large number of antibiotics.)

But please keep this further thought in mind: Even though some medicines may cost more, the overall cost of illness is steadily reduced. That is because the quick action of new medicines gets you rapidly on the road to recovery. Pneumonia, mastoiditis, acute infections are now conquered in days, rather than costly weeks. This saving directly benefits you and your household.

Bill To Amend
The Social Security Act
Introduced By
Rep. Albert H. Bosch

Mr. Speaker: The 83rd Congress made certain changes in the Social Security Act in accordance with the recommendation of the President of the United States. These changes were modest in their application and coverage.

The basic reasoning behind the Social Security program is to see that the people of this country enjoy the benefits from the money which they have contributed into the fund. I am firmly convinced that there is need for further revision of the program in three respects. It is for this reason that I am today re-introducing my bill which will, if adopted, remove what I would consider inequities in this program.

(1) It will give more benefits to the needy, those whom we consider at all times. It raises the basic benefit to $75 for beneficiaries and raises the widow and children benefits proportionately.

(2) It will reduce the benefit age from 65 years to 60 years. I believe that a more equitable distribution under the Social Security program will take place if the benefit age is reduced to 60 years. It has become increasingly evident that it is almost impossible for anyone over 45 years to obtain employment. Having contributed to the fund they should have the opportunity to enjoy the benefits at 60 years of age.

(3) This bill will also remove the restrictions on outside income and earnings of the beneficiaries as long as they have met all other requirements and are otherwise found qualified to receive Social Security benefits under the program. I am firmly convinced that the present restriction on outside earnings, before the age of 72 years, works a hardship on most of those who are recipients of these benefits.

Mr. Speaker, I sincerely trust that these recommendations will receive favorable consideration and action by the Committee on Ways and Means.

Last year the Troop made 150 Easter baskets for the children out in Kings Park, they were so well pleased with them that they asked our Troop to make them for the children again this year. It makes your heart feel good when you can bring sunshine into the lives of those less fortunate.

Their little faces light up with smiles when you walk in with something for them, it gives them the feeling that they are not forgotten.

PTA NEWS

P. S. 133

Mrs. Jack Miller, Pres.

The 23rd Anniversary Meeting of the PTA of P.S. 133 was held at 8:30 p.m. on March 14th. The invocation was given by Pastor W. John Derr of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Rose W. Kalter, Assistant Principal of P.S. 133, greeted the members and guests and explained Mr. Glickman's absence by reading a letter from him.

One of the features of the meeting was an art exhibit representing some samples of work done by children of P.S. 133.

Mrs. Lorraine Geary, a former teacher of P.S. 133, gave the principle address of the evening. She gave us an insight into the school art program and explained the teacher's role in creating the children's interest in art. "The teacher aims to give the child the incentive to experiment with his own ideas and to develop an appreciation for art," said Mrs. Geary.

Refreshments were served at the end of the business meeting.

Our April 18th meeting will feature a Talent Show given by the children of P.S. 133. Miss Picciano will be in charge of the show. Let us all attend in full strength and give the children a big hand. Remember, the meeting starts at 8:15 p.m.

Class Takes Charge of Color Guard at PTA Meeting

By Irene Journer

Class 5-1 took charge of the Color Guard on March 14th, for the PTA. Seven children were in the flag ceremony. The children that took part were: Irene Journer, Jane Rudin, Raymond Davis, Martin Schneider, Gail Rizzato, Herman Luhrs, Arnold Lewinger. Arnold carried the big American Flag, and the other children carried the small American Flags. At the end of the meeting, they announced that Mr. Paul's class won the PTA banner because eleven parents of the children attended. This is the second silver dollar Class 5-1 has won for having the most parents at a PTA meeting.

Second Grade Activities

The second grades have planted many different types of seeds. Class 2-1 has planted bean seeds. One plant has sprouted and shows two leaves. Many morning glory seeds have been planted, and so far four have sprouted.

The children have a lot of fun planting seeds.

Sight Conservation Class

There are nine children enrolled in the Sight Conservation Class. Their ages vary from about 5½ to 10. They do most of their work, except syyping, in other classes. The children work on drawing paper with dark pencils so they do not strain their eyes. Some of the children in this class dance, sing, play piano, and other instruments. This year the Sight Conservation Class has been chosen to take care of the school garden.

The teachers name is Mrs. Keating.

STUDENT COUNCIL PROJECTS

The Student Council is now working on two projects with Mr. Glickman.

The first is seeing to it that the parents do not park on the school side of the street. Most of the parents are cooperating but some seem to forget.

Some of the children in the upper grades are bringing water pistols to school. Mr. Glickman wishes that there shall be no more water pistols brought to school.

CLASS 6-1

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Class 6-1 had a very interesting assembly program. We learned how the United States adopted its national anthem, The "Star Spangled Banner" tells how the British tried to capture Fort McHenry and failed. Francis Scott Key was a prisoner on a British warship. While Key stood watching, he was inspired and wrote a poem. Later the poem was put to music and in 1931 became our national anthem.

5th AND 6th GRADE DANCE

On Friday, March 18, 1955, the 5th and 6th grade had a dance. It was conducted by Mr. Parsons, the social dancing teacher. The children from PS 191 came over to share in the fun. The dance I can truthfully say was a huge success.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST FARE

Sunday breakfast is becoming another national tradition. The foods traditionally associated with this "breaking of the fast" provide exciting variety, and the relaxed atmosphere of the day make it a welcome contrast to the usual haste of the work day week.

Here's one breakfast menu that's recommended by Jeanne Cagney, commentator on Mutual's "Queen For A Day" show. It consists of pineapple slices and whole strawberries, delicious hot sweet rolls, fresh brewed coffee and a gastronomic treat of poached egg on a tomato slice served on golden brown buttered toast with crispy bacon as an accompaniment.

Even on weekdays, breakfast—that forgotten meal—is coming back into its own. The insistence on its importance is being stressed by doctors, nutritionists, educators and even some employers. They say eating a better breakfast is keeping people more alert, efficient and in better spirits.

For the poached egg dish, place a tomato slice on a piece of buttered toast. Top with a poached egg and Hollandaise sauce. Serve it with strips of broiled bacon.
