LETS ALL DO OUR SHARE

While progress has been made in solving many of the disabling conditions that have plagued mankind for centuries, Cerebral Palsy continues to wreck havoc year after year. It results from injury to the brain before, during or after birth.

Consider these sobering facts: Every 53 minutes, a child comes into the world with Cerebral Palsy. That means approximately 13,000 new cases in this country every year.

It is estimated that there are between 300 to 350 cases of all ages per 100,000 population, or a total number in the United States of 500,000 to 600,000.

It is further estimated that there are over 200,000 Cerebral Palsied children in this country under 18 years of age.

There are 3,000 children and adults suffering from this affliction here in Queens.

Cerebral Palsy strikes with unrelenting regularity. It is not a disease nor is it hereditary. It respects neither family background nor economic factors. It simply happens and when it does, it leaves in its wake personal and family problems of monumental proportions.

For instance, Cerebral Palsy can result in not only one but a combination of disabilities. One victim can have speech, hearing and vision impairment along with lack of muscle control involving the legs and arms.

The vast legion of Cerebral Palsied, and those unborn who are doomed with the condition, need help. The United Cerebral Palsy of Queens is conducting a Community Canvass for Cerebral Palsy in Queens on Monday evening, April 8th to help the Cerebral Palsied of this community and to support a research program aimed at finding what causes Cerebral Palsy and what can be done to prevent it.

Let's all do our share! Your help today will mean hope tomorrow.

NEW YORK STATE ASSEMBLY

FROM: Assemblyman Louis Wallach, 10 A.D., Queens March 6.

Powerful pinch-hit support for sandlot baseball was expected in the Legislature today behind a bill to exempt Little League team sponsors from provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Sponsors of such teams were placed in a last inning two-out two-strike one-run behind dilemma 10 days ago when the Workmen's Compensation Board ordered a Parkchester Little League donor to pay $400 in dental bills incurred by a 14 year old sandlotter. If sustained, said Assemblyman Louis Wallach, Queens Democrat, it would doom the very existence of sandlot baseball.

Hope that a last-inning rally in the Legislature would nullify this "foul ball" decision has been sparked by the Rules Committee permitting introduction of a measure by Assemblyman Wallach to clarify employer - employee relationships between Little League sponsors and players. Wallach is acting on behalf of the Glen Oaks Little League and other sandlot programs in his area, but his measure, he said, "has far greater significance than merely protection of a vital youth service and community function in my district."

"Unless something is done to remove the threat of litigation from sponsors and organizations community-minded enough to support Little League, Babe Ruth and other junior baseball programs, the whole concept of this vast national sport structure may topple," said Assemblyman Wallach.

The Little Neck Democrat proposed that a personal injury system similar to that now prevailing in the school system "would make a much more equitable arrangement."

In the ruling against Parkchester Merchants Assn., Inc., the Bronx referee held that an employer-employee relationship existed because the boy's uniform advertised the sponsor. Assemblyman Wallach said it was "preposterous" to maintain that "a man who helps out a kid's team by buying them uniforms and supplying bats and balls is in fact an 'employer' of boys on that team."

"It makes a farce of a very fundamental and far-reaching labor and social concept inherent in the Workmen's Compensation Act and undermines the real intent of the law," Assemblyman Wallach contended.

He said that not only junior baseball programs but basketball, tennis and every "conceivable community service for youngsters sponsored by individuals or groups is jeopardized by the Board decision in the Parkchester case."

SCHOOL DAYS

BY TEACHER

Problem Children By Teacher

A great deal of writing and discussion is going on today about problem children. While there are many such children, thank Heaven, they are in the minority. However, even one in a school room can obstruct teaching and impede the progress of a class toward its scholastic goals.

The problem child is of great concern to school administrators, guidance counselors, school physicians, psychologists and psychiatrists. These specialists work for and with the child within the school setup. Their aims to solve the child's problems and help him become a fairly well adjusted individual. There are times when they find it necessary to call in other agencies to assist in the task of straightening out a wayward or maladjusted child. State welfare agencies, youth boards, Big Sister and Brother organizations and sometimes even the courts and other corrective measures are needed to complete the task. In a few instances adjustment is just about impossible and such children must be removed from society in general.

Parents are not always aware their offsprings are problem children. Often it is not until tragedy or near tragedy occurs that they are faced with the shock of realization. The problem child is not always a loud and boisterous rowdy. He is just as apt to be a quiet and seemingly well behaved individual, until his secret misdeeds are discovered. Parents should learn to differentiate between general run of the mill naughtiness and serious behavior difficulties. Highly exaggerated use of lying, stealing for no apparent reason, extraordinarily bad tempers and temper tantrums, inordinate desire to torment torture or even kill other creatures and unusual preoccupation with sex may be construed as some of the symptoms of behavior problems in children.

Serious behavior problems may have their origin in a sick mind or body. Cases of this sort must be treated by competent psychiatrists or physicians. What most parents rarely realize is that they themselves are often the cause of misbehavior in their children. The overly strict parent with an exaggerated sense of righteousness and the overly indulgent parent, who gives into the child's every whim, are both guilty of being sources of behavior difficulties for their children. In the home the child needs affection and understanding, but he in turn must understand that a firm disciplinary hand is ready to descend upon him when he deliberately and knowingly breaks the rules of good behavior.

Bad example in the home is another source of producing behavior problems in children, "Like father, like son," is no idol axiom. Good or bad, children will ape the actions of the adults in their homes and carry these actions into the classroom.

When a child becomes a serious behavior problem, especially in school, the parent should try to find the source of the trouble and, if it is in the home, admit the fact and remove the cause. Should the cause and the cure be beyond the control and understanding of the parent, he should consult the teacher, who through the school administrators will have the case referred to a special bureau. All school systems have bureaus of child guidance with trained case workers, psychologists and psychiatrists, who can give the child the professional attention needed in severe cases of behavior problems. In order to effect an improvement in the child under study it will be necessary for the parent to cooperate to the utmost by following the advice and directions given him. Deviation from the prescribed treatment may cause a setback in the problem child's progress toward adjustment. The school is as eager as the parent to improve the lot of the problem child and the accomplishment of the task is a cooperative venture.

TID-BITS

Two - forty - sixth — Hillside to Eighty-fifth Avenues.

Shocked and saddened by the sudden passing of Rose Raia on March 5, the heartfelt sympathy of the entire block is offered to her sons Dominick and Carmine.

Frank Rooney has been laid up since early in March because of an on-the-job accident in which two of the toes on his right foot were broken.

Out-of-neighborhood cars visiting our block recently included one from Texas, one from Massachusetts and one from Richmond Hill. The last one is a brand new Plymouth and belongs to Angela and Don West the younger generation of and frequent visitors to the Bondone household.

Firm believers in the value of early education Patricia and Robert Fehling put their theories into practice every day by leaving their home for school shortly after 7 A.M.

While we will all miss the advantage of crossing Hillside Avenue at our northern corner, because of the center separating mall installed there we are looking forward to the comfort of the new paving surface and the absence of the ponds of rain water we have been living with and growling at for so many years, by the big job being done on Hillside Avenue. Now, if some kind hearted borough official will give our block a few fringe benefits to rid our pavement of the crumbling process that is a continuing operation, he will receive our unanimous and grateful thanks. Of course, we would like to get rid of the pool at the Eighty-fifth Avenue and of the block too.

Municipal authorities are not the only ones with drainage troubles. The Opitz and Pollack-Caton households had theirs too during the past month. Roto Rooter in one case and new drain pipes in the other.

Step off the sidewalk one of these days and take a peek at some of our back yards. Rainbow hues if it is wash day, created by the scintillating coloring of the bed linen flying to the breeze. Exquisite!! Hardly the word for it!

Ernest Bennett's curbing, curb grass plot and parts of sidewalk got a rough deal by the installation procedure in connection with our new catch basin at Hillside Avenue. We feel sure the contractor will restore the damaged property to the entire satisfaction of the householder.

Stepping back from the rear to the street again you will notice a change. The Kost premises is minus a spruce tree. Nobody asked Felix the woodman to spare it so we presume it was removed to save the property from the depradations of its intertwining and traveling roots.

After 23 months of travel aboard a destroyer and then with the Military Sea Transportation service aboard the UNSN Leroy Eltinge, Jack Gibson can tell you much of the goings on of such places as Casa Blanca, French Morocco; Barcelona, Spain; Leghorn and Naples, Italy; Tripoli, Africa; Piraeus and Athens, Greece; Istanbul and Izmir, Turkey; Portsmouth and London, England; Bremen and Bremerhaven, Germany; Thule and Sundrestorm Fjord, Greenland; and Goose Bay Labrador. He is now back to his old duty station, U. S. Naval Hospital where he brushed up on his Bacteriology prior to taking over general supervision of all laboratory services.

Greta Gibson has been doing modeling for Harry Conover in New York. Her latest job was for Simplicity Patterns showing what the well dressed six year old will wear. She also spent four days with her Grandmother at the Waldorf-Astoria as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patterson, our Commissioner of Commerce and Mayor Wagners Welcoming Committee Chairman. She got a good look at King Saud and can tell you just what he wore.

Wagner, pastor of Grace Church is sending a letter to 50 members of the congregation to ask them to telephone the name enclosed on a card in the letter. When the call is made to remind the individual of the Lenten Service that week. Encourage them to come and if possible to meet and greet each other after the service.

This project will continued for the remaining weeks in Lent. The names of persons suggested are members of Grace, or interested in Grace. Pastor Wagner in his letter ask that the Lenten Services be remembered in their prayers. Ask God to bless our services and to use them to draw each of us — you and me, our fellow-mcmbers of Grace, our unchurched neighbors — closer to the Cross of the Redeemer.

On Wednesday evening, March 6th, Pastor Wagner started a series of sermons on the sermon topic "Searching Questions of Our Saviour's Passion."

FIRST ANNUAL COMMUNION BREAKFAST

The First Annual Girl Scout Communion Breakfast of Bellerose was a gratifying success. Fr. Reynolds was a most welcome and entertaining guest speaker.

The success was largely due to the diligent work of the committee, Miss Blanche M. Smith, Mrs. Barz, Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Tallman.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our Chefs, Bill Barz, Jack Fleming, Francis Moroney and Phil Smith, for the crisp bacon and delicious scrambled eggs.

A helpful hint to the Leaders, if you want to get out of the kitchen, put the fathers on your committee.

We also want to thank the John Prince Post V.F.W. for the use of their hall and kitchen facilities. They have been most generous and kind.

P. S. 133

Mrs. Lloyd Crumb Pres.

A gala birthday party was held by the P.T.A. of 133 in observance of the 25th birthday of the school. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Lloyd Crumb. Due to a lengthy program business was held down to a minimum. However, Mrs. Crumb presented to the P.T.A. membership at large a recommendation by the executive Board that members write to the Board of Education and go on record as favoring a proposal for Dr. Jansen to have 2 million dollars at his disposal for improving subject schools so that teachers would not be forced to transfer. This suggestion was made into a motion, seconded and duly voted upon, thus making the above recommendation the official feeling of P.T.A. 133. (

After the business transactions a double drawing for the dark horse was held. The winners were Mrs. Stack and Mrs. Adams.

The program was a dance recital under the direction of Mr. Parsons and included several numbers by the following members of the 6th grade: Nancy Carman, Richard Allen, Susan Freeman, Fred Busch, Betsy Martin Eugene Mollick, Carolyn Munk, Michael Schwed, Fred Abrams, Barbara Dassihower, Mark Berlant, Evelyn Luning, William Hermann, Helen Palumbo, Charles Posteler, June Resnick, Doreen Corrigan, Alan Berenklaue, Doris Carter, Joseph Cibillo, Barbara Miller, Ernest Pungburn, Linda Poggilo and John Sceppa. Anne Recheter presented some interperative dance numbers.

The following Y.M.C.A. dances presented several versions of currently popular dances: Marilyn and Lester Dehn, Frances Ziemak, Nesta Griffen, Ricky Gallo, Mac Torres and Nina and Helen Settineri.

After the program the meeting adjourned to the lunch room where the birthday cake was cut and passed around.

Bellerose Commonwealth Civic Association

Ralph M. Hayden, Pres.

Your civic association is constantly on the alert in following up matters of civic importance for your benefit. The present problems requiring immediate attention are:

1. Forced racial integration in our schools.
2. The sale of the bus lines and power stations by the city to private operators.
3. Water fluoridation.
4. Road conditions.
5. Assessible improvements and assessments thereon.

The fluoridation problem at this moment might be considered a dead issue, as it is understood no further action will be taken by the city of New York at this time.

The problem of road conditions is being followed up, and as you have noticed, some work has been done by the Borough Highway Department.

The matter of assessible improvements, we are happy to announce, seems to be going in favor of the Queens home owners. The report of the Mayor's Committee on assessible improvements has incorporated the items which we were pressing for. Our next fight on this matter will take place when it goes before the Board of Estimate.

The number one problem at this time is as listed, the problem of what the Board of Education likes to call "Racial Balance" in our schools. We are trying to be as objective as possible in dealing with this matter, and will report here only the facts as we understand and interpret them. A committee within the framework of the Board of Education has been working since 1954 on drafting a plan for racially balancing our schools. It was not until a few months ago that we were made aware that this study and this proposal was being made; when it was brought to the attention of interested civic groups, and they in turn attempted to get information from the Board of Education — this information was almost impossible to obtain. A high school official, begging not to be quoted, recently informed us that even he was unable to obtain, as we were unable to obtain, a copy of the report of this committee until after it had been passed by the Board of Education. This report was passed unanimously by the nine members of the Board of Education, even though in private discussions beforehand, we had been informed that the vote would be far from unanimous. The report itself is very, very vague and lends itself to any interpretation one wishes. The civic associations are attempting to arrange a public meeting with the Mayor and members of the Board of Education to fully explore and understand this new plan which the Board of Education has passed and expects to put into effect!! We understand the Board of Education is asking two million dollars to embark upon this plan.

This program, to put it briefly, as we understand it, and we certainly wish we were wrong, is basically the plan of rezoning school districts so that the schools may be racially balanced. If zoning alone does not accomplish this, then students of certain races will be transported by bus from one zone to another to racially balance the school, which could mean that your child could be placed in a bus and transported miles from his home district to attend a school at a great distance simply to racially balance the schools. Segregation does not exist in our schools other than when caused by natural neighborhood dispersion of races and we are opposed to forced intergration, and the cost, and danger of transporting children unreasonable distances.

Your comments and suggestions as to how your civic association should approach these problems are urgently solicited. Please contact any of the officers or directors of your civic association and give them your views.
