We Can Prevent Tooth Decay by Dr. Mary C. McLaughlin District Health Officer

Now, for the first time in history, we can prevent the most common disease of mankind — tooth decay. Tooth decay causes pain, infections, and loss of teeth. It may make eating difficult, cause speech problems and result in deformities of the face. At present new cavities occur faster than dentists can fill them. However there is an easy and safe way to prevent cavities. This is by the addition of a very small amount of fluoride to our water supply — just enough fluoride to bring the fluoride content up to one part per million parts of water.

People ask, what is fluoride? Fluoride is a common substance found in almost all drinking water and in many foods. It is almost impossible to eat a meal that doesn't have some fluoride. When nature provides fluoride in the water to the extent of at least one part per million, the people who drink that water have much less tooth decay than people living in areas where the water has too little or no fluoride. New York City is an area where there is not enough fluoride in the water to prevent tooth decay. The addition of fluoride will not change the taste, color or odor of the water. Children who drink fluoridated water from birth will benefit the most. They will grow up with about 60 per cent fewer cavities. This means fewer missing teeth. Though fluoridation doesn't cure existing cavities, it does help prevent new cavities from forming.

Entire cities have taken part in comparison studies lasting up to 10 years to find out exactly what are the effects of fluoridation. again and again it has been proved that fluoridation cuts tooth decay. The overwhelming evidence that fluoridation of the water supply is safe and effective has led to its wholehearted endorsement by the leading medical, dental and scientific organizations.

Over 25 million Americans in 1,256 communities throughout the United States are now benefitting from drinking water to which the proper amount of fluoride has been added to reduce tooth decay.

New York City is one of the great medical centers of the world in sponsoring health advances and adopting measures to prevent illness and suffering. It is unthinkable that the children of our city should be denied the benefits of one of the surest preventive health advances of our time.

Tooth decay now costs New Yorkers $100 million a year. Fluoridation of the water supply to prevent tooth decay will cost only nine cents per person a year. The savings in dental costs each year would amount to millions of dollars. Fluoridation is the best health bargain available today.

RED CROSS DRIVE STARTS MARCH 1

Queens Borough President James A. Lundy will be honorary chairman of the 1957 Red Cross campaign for members and funds which will be conducted by the Central Chapter of Queens starting March 1st, according to William H. O'Neill of Belle Harbor, Fund chairman. At the same time, O'Neill announced that Martin L. Savarese of Kew Gardens will serve as a vice chairman.

The Advisory Committee which is planning the drive has as its members Ambrose B. Acker of Jamaica Estates; Douglas W. Hughes of Flushing, Red Cross Chapter Chairman; Mrs. Michael M. Schultz of Hollis, Vice chairman for Volunteer; O'Neill; Mrs. Harry Gertz of Jamaica Estates; Alfred E. Alberts of Long Island City; Mrs. Frank S. Murty of Forest Hills and Roy Bryant of Jackson Heights.

Special divisions of the drive are now being organized, O'Neill stated today and heading up the Bank and Finance division will be Raymond F. Riley, vice president of the Marine Midland Trust Co. The beverage industry is headed by Louis Lodatti of Sunnyside; Courts and Lawyers will be headed by August G. Klages of Elmhurst; Dentists by Rudolf M. Iorio of Astoria; Motion Picture activities by M. J. Baranco of Long Island City.

It's necessary to cultivate good habits—bad ones grow wild.

SCHOOL DAYS

BY TEACHER

Cooperation of Parents

The best interests of a school child of any age can be well served by close cooperation between the parent and the school. There are many occasions in which the school must rely upon such cooperation and when this cooperation is denied, it is usually the child who loses out in one way or another.

There are many ways in which cooperation is desired of parents. All school administrators are deeply interested in the health of their pupils. Healthy pupils usually have a better chance to succeed in school work than the less healthy. To ascertain the degree of good health of the student body of a school health circulars are sent to parents at various intervals. These circulars deal with the care of the teeth, the general health of pupils and preventative measures such as polio and diphtheria injections. Very definite information is asked for on these circulars and the parent is expected to supply the requested information and return it to the school as soon as possible. In cases of needed physical examinations or preventative injections the object of the circular is to permit the parent to designate whether he wishes his private physician or the school doctor to take care of the matter.

Unfortunately some parents take the attitude that the school is attempting to pry into their personal affairs. Other parents are just indifferent to circulars and letters. As a result a large number of these carefully planned letters to parents are discarded and never sent back to the school. School authorities are thereby hampered in their health improvement programs and projects to prevent the occurrence of certain contagious diseases.

Another type of circular letter sent to parents deals with the prevention of fire and accidents in the home. Usually the parent is requested to return an anonymous check list to the school indicating the areas in the home, which produce the greatest amount of accidents. From these check lists statistics are compiled showing the most common causes of accidents in the home. Parents do their communities a fine service when they return these check lists to the school.

Among other appeals made for cooperation of the parent with the school are letters urging them to join the parents' association. Some of these letters request parents to take part in drives and other projects pertaining to the school and the community.

In spite of the fact that such appeals are in the form of circular letters and are not personal they deserve every consideration. They represent an urgent need for cooperation. Responding to the appeals in these letters presents a medium of reciprocity by means of which both the school and the members of the general community benefit. The school gets to know the community and its needs better and the community learns to appreciate what the school is attempting to do for the children of the community. Taking cognizance of circular letters sent to parents by the school and responding favorably to the requests contained therein encourages school administrators to do all they can for the communities in which their schools are located. Such mutual assistance is a great asset to both school and community and results in greater benefits to school children.

Correct Inequities!

Congressmen Latham and Boesch

Congressmen Henry J. Latham and Albert H. Bosch today announced that they have jointly introduced legislation to correct obvious inequities which were not included in the amendments to the Civil Service Retirement Act adopted at the last session of Congress. The newly introduced legislation, the Congressmen said, would stabilize the pensions of retired federal employees in comparison to the increased cost of living index which over the past years has brought smaller real income to these retired federal employees. It would also liberalize the law so that the widow of a deceased federal employee would get the benefit of the increase and also takes care of the "forgotten widows" and provides for the method of financing the annuity increases proposed in this legislation.

The Congressmen urged early consideration of their proposal so that the dire plight of elderly people living on a fixed income may be alleviated.

● We, too, are often disturbed because some of the newer specialties are necessarily high-priced. We don't like to "ask such prices." And they certainly aren't popular with the producers—they reduce prices as rapidly as production costs permit. (For example, penicillin today is produced and sold at a very small fraction of the early costs.)

But your Doctor may prescribe the newer drugs because of their powerful and positive action. He wants you to travel the rapid road to Recovery. In the long run this saves you time, money and needless suffering.

Where Is Julius Giardino?

Joseph F. Giardino of 25-28 35th Street, Long Island City, turned today to the Central Chapter of Queens, American Red Cross in an effort to locate his nephew, Julius Giardino, with whom he lost contact some fourteen years ago. Julius' father, Salvatore, is seriously ill in Bellevue Hospital and keeps asking for his son.

Julius is now forty-one years of age and the family believes that he is still with the armed forces. About fourteen years ago he had been a mess sergeant in the Army and was stationed in Honolulu. A check through Service Headquarters in Washington fails to locate him. He enlisted in the army in July 1934 and was a private attached to Fort Slocum.

The Central Queens Red Cross Chapter, failing to locate Julius through army records, is asking the metropolitan press for help in publishing this appeal. Anyone who knows this man should contact the Central Chapter of Queens, American Red Cross at 92-32 Union Hall Street, Jamaica, telephone REpublic 9-6880.

"Overhaul Adoption Laws" Says Assemblyman Louis Wallach

Assemblyman Louis Wallach, Little Neck Democrat told this newspaper today that he will press for the immediate enactment of his bill calling for the overhaul of the adoption laws of the State of New York by a study of the laws relating to adoption.

The laws regarding adoption in New York State have not been reviewed for many years. A number of other states have recently reviewed their adoption laws, with useful improvements resulting.

In New York State, there are a number of questions which need clarification.

a. The size and extent of the "gray market" and black market in babies. An objective study could throw light on this.

b. Court procedures on adoption vary throughout the state.

c. A study of parental rights in adoption.

The establishment of a Commission to study this problem is timely.

Community interest in adoption and concern for children who have no parents, make the creation of this commission mandatory. Assemblyman Wallach also said that comments and suggestions on this legislation and any other matters of legislative concern are welcome.

Mr. Wallach can be contacted by writing to him at the Assembly Chamber, Albany, New York.

The Girl Scout Promise

On My Honor, I Will Try
To do my duty to God and my Country.
To help other people at all times.
To obey the Girl Scout Law.

At the Girl Scouts' annual meeting in the Hunter College January 17, ten Queens residents were among 30 New York City people receiving Council awards for exceptional volunteer service in the interest of Scouting.

For outstanding organizational or campaign work, during 1956, the following were honored with the official Council award, a bronze statuette of an Intermediate Girl Scout.

Mrs. Philip Strebel, 131-21 Mathewson Court, Springfield Gardens; Mr. Reginald Back, 218-23 130th Ave., Mrs. Solomon Drucker, 1315 Dinsmore Ave., Far Rockaway; Mr. Charles Ernst, 16-72 Jefferson Ave., Ridgewood; Miss Lillian Jinke, 87-44 Marengo St., Hollis; Mrs. Louis Paolillo, 170-12 Highland Ave., Jamaica; Mr. Lawrence Rosenfeld, 78-32 Main St., Flushing; Mr. Garfield Kibble, 5101 39th Ave., Long Island City; Reverend George W. Knight, Rector, All Saints' Episcopal Church, Long Island City and Mrs. A. Graham Siener, 43-15 221st St., Bayside.

Newly elected to the Board of Directors from Queens were Mrs. Hudson Chapman of Douglaston; Mrs. Francis J. Stephan of Flushing and Mrs. William Groat, III, of Queens Village.

Eight Queens troops received Council ribbon awards for continuous existence. Troops 11, (Whitestone) 59 (Jamaica) 111, (Richmond Hill) 128, (Maspeth) and 190, (Dunton) were awarded 25 year ribbons. Troop 69 of the Idlewild neighborhood received a 30 year award and troops 15 and 20 of Woodhaven received 35 year ribbons.

Mrs. Howard Phipps, Council President, presented International Friendship pins to three Hungarian children who attended the meeting with their Scout hostesses. The children are staying with Mrs. Irving Furst of Arverne until their parents are settled. They have been guests at troop meetings and, although the American Girl Scouts do not speak Hungarian, they are learning that language is no barrier to friendship and international understanding.

Participating in the Girl Scout Chorus were troops 130, 210, 287, 571 and 609 and among the eight troops which performed the flag ceremony were Queens troops 453 and 559.

BELLEROSE LEADERS CLUB
Leaders Club meeting this month. The Bellerose Girl Scout Fly-Up will be held on February 13th in the Fellowship Hall of the House of Hope Church, 248th St. and 85th Ave. at 8:00 P.M.

First Annual Communion Breakfast

On Girl Scout Sunday, March 10, Catholic Girl Scouts, including Brownies, Intermediates, and Seniors, will attend the 9:15 a.m. Mass in St. Gregory's School, receive Holy Communion, and afterwards will assemble in the V.F. W. Hall at Cross Island Parkway and Braddock Avenue for breakfast. Father Reynolds of St. Gregory's will be the guest speaker.

For further information contact Miss Blanche M. Smith, Fieldstone 7-0579.

TROOP 4-154

Mrs. Schoemer, Leader
Mr. Lorenz of the March of Dimes, Queens Office, came to our meeting on January 4th and brought kits for the girls to assemble. The girls formed assembly lines and enjoyed the production work. They assembled almost one thousand kits in one afternoon.

TROOP 4-256

Mrs. Rizzuto, Leader
Our troop took a trip to Chinatown. The girls were all thrilled to try eating with chop sticks.

At the winter Fly-Up, 4 new girls will be accepted into the troop. Seven girls will receive their second class award, and three will receive their first class award. One girl will receive her five year pin.

Rosarians To Audition

On Sunday morning, February 3, members of the Rosary Society of St. Gregory the Great Church will receive Holy Communion at the eight o'clock Mass.

On Monday evening, February 4, following devotions, Rosarians will assemble in the auditorium to honor their Moderator, Reverend John J. Brown on the occasion of his birthday. Of his twenty-one-plus years, Father has spent nigh on to twenty of those years guiding the activities of this Rosary Society. A huge birthday cake will be cut by Mrs. Marguerite McBarron, President, while the members sing "Happy Birthday to you, Father Brown" and wish him many more years of devoted leadership.

To further highlight the evening, Mrs. Beatrice Multer MC will conduct an Amateur Hour. Judging by the talent demonstrated at the Christmas Party, much excitement is in store. Come one, come all—and give our Priests and Members another enjoyable evening. And who knows some day we may point with pride to a celebrated performer on TV and say "I know exactly where and when she got her start". Of course, there will be some who will get the "hook"—but they, too, distinguish themselves by their splendid sportsmanship. Prizes will be awarded to the most outstanding.

Plans will be negotiated for our famous Penny Sale to be held at the March meeting, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Irene Moore.

Joan Reaches Her Goal

Congratulations to Joan Gebhart of 84-33 247th Street, who will graduate from Queens College this month.

Joan is already established in the field of her future endeavors; — a kindergarten teacher at Sands Point School in Port Washington.

We wish her continued success and happiness in her vocation.

We Hate to See You Go

Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman, formerly of 86-11 254th Street, are now living in East Northport, Long Island.

We received a letter from them to say that they lived in Bellerose for twelve years and now miss all their friends very much. "However, so that we may keep in touch we wish to renew our subscription to the Bellerose Manor News."

We wish the Beckmann family happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Two Forty-Sixth — Hillside to Eighty-Fifth

Kevin Burke, one of our youngest citizens, had several reasons for enjoying a glorious Christmas season. His daddy was home from the Air Force — and for good; and his great grand father and a great aunt helped him celebrate his first birthday early in January by celebrating their's on the same day.

Greta Gibson is happy too because her daddy, Chief Petty Officer Jack Gibson, U.S.N., took an important part in the transportation of some of the Hungarian refugees into the good old U. S. A.

Irene Bowers, a recently retired member of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's large family, is enjoying a well-earned vacation at Fort Lauderdale, Florida. She expects to remain in the land of sunshine for four or five weeks.

Tommy Barrell says he has enjoyed more skating this winter with his dad, Edward J., than he has at any time during his long and illustrious career.

Helen and Fred Nichols were pleasantly surprised early in December by many relatives and friends at a combo wedding and birthday anniversary.

We haven't seen the Kost's new Mercury but we've been told its a beauty. Touring on this continent instead of in Europe will probably be the order of the day for their vacation this summer.

Charlie Griffin's neighbors suffered mouth-watering disappointment when no venison steaks or even cutlets were forth-coming on Charlie's return from his jaunt to the Catskills during the deer-hunting season.

Florence Goring is slowly recovering from the effects of a scalding water accident she experienced in September.

Fort Bragg Calls Bellerose

Fort Bragg, Jan. 13 — Private First Class Francis F. Finn, son of Mrs. Eileen Finn, 242-35 91 Ave., Bellerose, New York, marched in a battalion from the famed 82nd Airborne Division at the Inaugural Parade held for President Eisenhower on Jan. 21.

He was picked, along with 700 others of the 82nd's best troopers, as having proved himself to be outstanding in soldierly appearance and performance of duty.

The composite battalion began training Jan. 9 for the parade, and continued their preparations through Jan. 17, when they left for Washington and the parade Jan. 21st.

The 82nd marched with over 12,000 servicemen and women from all the nation's Armed Forces.

The 82nd marched at President Eisenhower's first inauguration in 1953, when more than 2,000 troopers took part in the parade.

The Division has been the nation's marching showpiece since its return from World War II when it represented the Armed Forces in the Victory Parade down New York's Fifth Avenue.

Grace Church News

It was announced by the Rev. Louis S. Wagner, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Queens Village, L.I., N.Y., that Miss Helen Kauffmann is now the full time organist at Grace. Miss Kauffmann resides at 109-50 216th St., Queens Village, N.Y. — telephone HO 4-5574.

During the day, Miss Kauffmann, teaches at Baldwin Junior High School, her subject is mathematics.

In addition to her organ duties, she will attend all choir rehearsals and accompany the choir.

Miss Kauffmann was a member of the Intermediate and Senior choirs at Grace Church. She is a member of the Lutheran Chorus of Queens and the Youth Chorus of the Metropolitan District Lutheran Walther League. She is a graduate of Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana.

Serving the church, through their Ministry of Music all three choirs of Grace Lutheran Church, senior, intermediate and junior, meet regularly each week for rehearsal. The senior choir on Thursday evening, 8:15 p.m., intermediate choir, Friday evenings at 7:15 p.m. and the junior choir on Saturday mornings, 10:00 a.m.

Over one hundred individuals are in the three choir groups at Grace Church. In the senior organization 25, the intermediates 30 (an all girl choir) and the juniors have 50 boys and girls.

Each church service at Grace, one or more of the choirs take part in the service. The Junior and Intermediates generally sing at the 8:30 A.M. service while the Senior sings at the 10:45 A.M. On special church festival services all three choirs participate.

St. Gregory Teen-Agers Plan Holiday Outing to Bear Mt. Washington Birthday Trip Will Also Visit Maryknoll

Festive and gala plans are now being set for the members of St. Gregory's teen-age Confraternity Club to visit the Bear Mountain Lodge for a merry spree of Ice-Skating and Dancing. Four busses will be leaving St. Gregory's Church at 9:00 a.m. on February 22nd and aboard one of the coaches will be Mike McKenna's "Rhythm Masters" to provide dance music for the members up at the popular lodge. Last year the Club visited the US Military Academy at West Point and a Roadside Rest for dancing on the way home.

En route to Bear Mt. for skating and dancing, the Club will make an hour's stop at famous Maryknoll on the Hudson, home and training ground of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society, which each year dispatches young American priests and nuns to the far-flung Catholic missions about the globe. Two Bellerose young men, Mr. Robert Howlett and Mr. Maurice Healy, will greet their compatriots from Long Island and will conduct them around the beautiful grounds of the Seminary and the new Chapel dedicated by Cardinal Spellman last year. After an enjoyable visit the motorcade will journey up to scenic Bear Mountain Park for a pleasant stay. In connection with this tour, Father John King of Maryknoll will attend the February 21st meeting of the Confraternity Club and show a color motion picture of mission life and comment about the life of a Maryknoller.

On January 23rd the Confraternity Club appeared on Ted Steel's Teen Bandstand and put on a mighty fine show that included the uniformed cheerleaders the Club's orchestra, and a special cialty of South American Dances staged by Mrs. Yvonne Burrows of St. Gregory's parish. The Club's Swim Party to the Hotel St. George in Brooklyn during the holiday season was most successful.

An Ice and Roller Skating Party is scheduled for the Club on Monday, February 11th, at the Flushing Meadow Ice Rink followed by a special St. Valentine's Dance on February 14th with Mike McKenna's Rhythm Masters providing lots of good dance music. Plans for the future also call for taking in a NY Ranger hockey game and a NY Knickerbocker Basketball game at Madison Square Garden.

For members of the Confraternity Club to qualify for these and other activities, however, it is interesting to know that they must faithfully attend the Club meetings each Thursday evening at 8:00 p.m. in St. Gregory's Church. The Club also has its own Monthly Mass on the First Saturday of the month, dedicated to Our Lady of Fatima, at the 8 o'clock Mass.

Nassau County Extension Service

The Bellerose Unit of the Nassau County Extension Service will hold its regular business meeting Wednesday, February 13, at 12:30 p.m. at St. Thomas Church in Bellerose. Following the business meeting there will be a talk by Sergeant John Blenn, Nassau County Police on "How Not To Be A Woman Driver."

Classes to be held the month of February are: Sewing Centers, Custom Touch, Advance Color in the Home.

Anyone can take a day off—the big problem is figuring out a way to put it back.

in the Lutheran League, and the women have also formed a team to compete in the Lutheran Women's League. Volleyball has proven to be popular, and a tournament is being arranged among the Church organizations. Sports play an important part in the work of Holy Trinity among its young people. The Unlimited B.B. Team includes among its members the new Assistant Pastor of the Church, Rev. Clarence Schneider. Some of the well known Bellerose boys on this team include Jimmy Ganci, Larry Reinhardt, Ronnie Dircks, Bob Anderson and Gene Olsen.

The Junior Team is currently in second place in the Queens Church League. Captained by Al Engler, and coached by Pete Sebekos, these boys are making a strong bid to retain their Championship won last year.

The Senior Girls, under the leadership of John Jannsen, and co captained by Laraine Heim and Herta Voigt, are currently in third place in the League. The Junior Girls, co-captained by Carol Weygand, Joan Bahrenfanger and Ingrid Seekamp, are learning from Ernie Schwabe, and look very promising for the Seasons ahead.

Cheering the Basketball teams on to victory is a Cheer Leaders group of 10 girls, captained by Carol Horn and Carolyn Vogel (co-captain).

The Senior Luther League has planned a busy schedule for February. The members will attend the LID Variety Show Feb. 8 and 9, the Annual Holy Trinity Church Show on Feb. 14 and 15, and many of them will take part in these two activities. Business meeting is scheduled for Feb. 10, and 26 of the Leaguers, led by their Advisor, Ernest Schwabe, and accompanied by Pastor

Schneider and Mrs. Hoh, will spend a Winter Weekend at Holiday Hills, Pawling, N.Y., on Feb. 1-2-3. To cap the February activities, there will be a combined Mission Service in the Church on Sunday Feb. 24, when the work among the American Indians will be graphically portrayed by a group of the Leaguers, in Indian costume, in an Indian setting. Much activity is also planned among the Young People's Luther League by their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gumbel, and the Intermediate League and their advisor, Pastor Schneider. All young people in Holy Trinity can find some activity among these various church organizations, and in this way, Holy Trinity is striving to play its part in keeping our Bellerose youth's actions in the right direction.

Mrs. Lloyd Crumb Pres.

The regular meeting was held January 14th in the school gymnasium. Announcement was made of a sale of used skates, boots and rubbers to be held February 19th from 3 to 5 p.m. Parents can bring donations for this sale to the PTA meeting February 11th.

Mr. Glickman spoke to the parents of the new method of teaching mathematics. A panel of teachers, Mrs. Latti, Mrs. Weinstein, Mrs. Jager, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Horn and Mrs. Vesper answered parents' questions on specific problems.

The February 11th meeting will be Fathers' night, with a speaker to discuss the petroleum industry. We would like to see a large turnout of fathers, and as a special inducement, there will be a very interesting door prize.

The Parent-Teachers Association deeply regrets the untimely passing of Miss T. Purcell, school clerk at P.S. 133 for 15 years.

FAR AWAY PLACES

By Charles W. Richling

This is the Third and last installment of—

By Copra Boat in The Fijis

Our stay on Natewa Bay extended into the following two days and many brief landings were made, at one of which we brought back stalks of wild bananas. At another, a crowd of young Fijians, both fellows and girls, came aboard still celebrating New Years' which had been a month before. They sang, shouted, beat on empty oil drums and danced all over the ship. When the engine started suddenly and we began to leave the harbor without a moments notice, a wild diving of fully clothed people into the water followed. It was a great sight as they gracefully leaped from railings on the upper deck, lower deck, bow and stern.

It was always interesting to watch the unloading of cargo with the winch, from the ship into the small boats and the loading of the bags of copra into the hold after the return trip. In the evening a cabin cruiser full of Fijians came along side visiting members of our crew and playing guitars. We anchored for the night just off a coconut plantation where I actually counted about ten thousand trees visible from the hill top down to the water's edge.

The Adi Keva got underway at 5:00 A.M. and after a brief stop at the Catholic Mission and another on Mbutha Bay, continued on to Somosomo on the island of Taveuni, a very interesting and photogenic spot. This was my idea of a real South Sea island village... palm trees, out-rigger canoes, thatched huts, a church, a native meeting house, winding roads, a tumbling creek and friendly natives.

One native who volunteered to act as my guide, told me all about the place. Inside the Methodist Church he showed me the Memorials to early missionaries, to former local chiefs and to those who lost their lives in the war of 1917-19. Especially interesting was the "Tabua" or sperm whale's tooth used as a token of friendship and sincerity and presented on formal occasions. It has an ornamental cord of plaited coconut fibre which is held in the right hand, while the tooth is held in the left, during presentation. The Government Building was run by all Fijians, of which fact my guide was most proud.

Later we went ashore at Morris Hedstrom's plantation where I saw the furnace-like copra dryers of coconut trees.

On the return trip we again put in at Levuka and spent another beautiful, clear day there, enabling us to get some photos missed on the first visit. A young Fijian who invited me into his "bure" there, told me, while seated on the floor sipping tea, that he had made friends of several American soldiers during the war, one of whom wrote to him and longed to be back in Fiji. When I said "Good Bye" to the Adi Keva, after breakfast back in Suva next day, I knew how that soldier felt, because I found myself wishing that I could keep right on sailing among those islands forever. The End.

A man has a right to do as he pleases only so long as he pleases to do right.

held by the Court and thanks are due to Mrs. Anne Wolk, Vice Regent, for a very successful party.

Mrs. Wolk has also graciously accepted the chairmanship of the Annual Bridge Party. This bridge will be held on Monday evening, February 18th, in the Community Garden Restaurant, Queens Village. Mrs. Kathleen Calcagno is the Co-Chairman of this affair. A Basket of Cheer and many other valuable prizes will be raffled off at this affair, as well as many sweepstake prizes. These Bridge Parties have gained renown as having a great many such prizes, so come to this one, have an enjoyable evening, win some prizes as well as help Court St. Gregory in its charitable work.

HERE'S HOW TO BEAT COLD WEATHER

Cold weather, especially freezing cold, can create a host of problems for motorists. However, with a bit of foresight, you can out-trick the cold. For example:

● You can keep the door and trunk locks from freezing by covering the key openings with small pieces of masking tape when you put the car up for the night. Keep a small roll of the tape in your glove compartment.

If you should find yourself with a frozen lock, heat the key with a match, cigarette lighter or candle flame.

● In parking on snow, prepare your exit by moving the car forward and backward about a foot before turning off the ignition. The tracks that you thus form will make it easier for you to pull away later or even the next morning. This is true even if additional snow has fallen.

● It's usually the wind that causes a car to freeze, therefore a blanket or any other covering thrown over the hood of a car parked in the open will make a difference even in intense cold.

● An electric bulb on an extension cord, hung under the hood and left burning all night, will yield enough heat to prevent freezing and to make easy starting in the morning.

● If it's so cold that the heater won't deliver warm air, put a piece of cardboard on the lower part of the radiator, just behind the grille-work. This will reduce the intake of cold air and let the engine warm up. (But don't fail to remove it if your temperature gauge shows overheating).

● In starting the car, depress the clutch to free the starter motor of the drag of transmission gears laboring in congealed oil. Also spare the battery by turning off lights, radio, etc. As soon as the engine starts, release the clutch so the transmission will warm up too.

● Check the battery weekly and keep it fully charged. Lights, radio, heater, defrosters and frequent stops and starts in cold weather—plus the cold itself—weaken the battery. And at zero, it is only 40 per cent efficient.

● When a car is parked outdoors for the night, you can prevent frosting of the windows by slipping large cards under the windshield wipers. Put a non-freezing solution in your windshield washer

● Check the underside of the car occasionally for blocks of accumulated and frozen slush. These may make it hard for you to pull out of snow and, around the front wheels, may be dangerous in preventing you from making a full turn or getting out of a skid.

● To keep the gas line from freezing, you may add eight ounces of grain alcohol or an approved commercial solvent to every other full tank of gasoline.

● Drive slowly through water to prevent flooding of distributor and spark plugs, which will stall the engine.

● To avoid a foggy windshield, put a few drops of glycerine on a clean cloth and apply it to the inside of the glass.

Ralph M. Hayden, Pres.

The next meeting of the Bellerose-Commonwealth Civic Association is expected to be February 29th—8 PM at PS 133. You will receive a notice in your door confirming this a few days before the meeting. Plan now to attend—this meeting is our annual tax assessment meeting. We will have all the new tax assessments available for your inspection. Is your real estate tax going to be higher this year??? If so you may be able to prevent the increase—come to this meeting and find out how.

Your association is constantly on the alert for your benefit. We send representatives to important committee meetings to express the desires of our group and in cooperation with other civic groups and through the Eastern Queens Civic Council we do accomplish a great deal. Many items that would be detrimental to the homeowner and/or cost him money are defeated before they start.

It costs you only one dollar per year to be a member—the work of your association saves you many, many times that amount each year. Your dollar is not the necessary item—your membership is. The more homeowners we can truthfully say we represent, the greater is our importance when dealing with a problem before a governmental agency, etc.

Join your Civic association now and attend the meetings. Meetings are only held when items of importance need your personal attention and cooperation and each meeting notice is distributed to every home in our area a few days in advance.

Send dues to Melvin Ripley, Financial Sec., 8448 251 St.

The world is divided into two classes — people who work and those who work them.

It's a mistake to think that the man who works all the time will win the race.

It takes a lot of education and experience before a man really begins to realize how little he actually knows.
