Civic Group Turn Tables On Sanitation Men

A Civic minded group in Ozone Park got their dander up when the new Sanitation "police force" stormed the community and handed out tickets for coverless garbage cans. The group in turn complained about the careless and destructive methods used by Sanitation men when collecting garbage. Covers are thrown in the street for cars to run over them, and cans are thrown anywhere. We have gone through two covers for the same can and are now ready for a third. As we mentioned before we actually saw a collector after he had emptied the can, stand at a rear corner of the truck and deliberately bash it several times on the side until it was elliptical and half the diameter; — A New Can! It wasn't possible to complain as it was witnessed from the bedroom window at midnight with the storm windows on. The latest stunt is to put the can in the center of the driveway when empty.

The Ozone Park residents have now a campaign in progress of reporting all collectors who handle the cans abusively. It has brought results. Why can't we do the same?

Have Mercy On The Kitty

A complaint has come in about certain people who when they tire of a pet, just take it for a ride and dump it in the Street. Cats are the principal sufferers; the reason for this is we surmise, — the so called Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has "discontinued to pick up cats." There isn't any money in cats.

Many years ago the pick-up agents were so zealous in their work that dogs weren't safe on your own porch.

Less than half of the pet dog owners of the city have renewed the license for 1955. It's a wonder the city doesn't take over this easy source for money.

RED CROSS AID TO THE AFFLICTED

The Queens Village-Bellerose Branch of the American Red Cross have acquired a hospital bed (no mattress according to Health Laws), a wheel chair, and a pair of crutches. Residents of Bellerose living south of Union Turnpike and north of Jamaica Avenue are eligible to have the use of them for two months. Apply to Mrs. E. Kellogg, Fieldstone 7-0591, 244-40 85th Avenue or to Mrs. Meegan, Hollis 5-2496.

April Blood Bank Drive was postponed to October 21. A big effort will be made at that time to obtain a large number of donors, and the aid of the entire community will be enlisted.

In the meantime, if you or any member of your family should go to a hospital and possibly need blood, please contact Mrs. Kellogg or Mrs. Meegan so that the blood may be released to the Hospital from the Blood Bank in time for the transfusion.

GET WELL SOON

As we go to press we hear that Mrs. John Meyer of 85 Road has been confined to a hospital the last five weeks. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mothers March On Polio

Mothers' March on Polio volunteers in Queens are continuing their work in the battle against polio. Thousands of the volunteers will be assisting during the period when Queens school children receive the Salk Polio vaccine.

The volunteers began their work in the schools Thursday, April 21. There will be six in each Queens school, for a total of approximately 1,500 volunteers.

In addition, approximately 200 volunteers are working in Department of Health Centers throughout Queens. The volunteers are preparing the clinical equipment for delivery to the schools.

Mothers' March on Polio volunteers will transport the vaccine from the health centers to schools throughout the Borough. The vaccine will not be kept in the schools overnight, but will be brought to the schools by volunteers each morning during the inoculation period.

The volunteers will be working on a rotating basis, so that as many as 10,000 Queens Mothers' volunteers may be involved in the program before it is completed. Hundreds of volunteers worked on the vaccine field trials in Queens last year.

Any man who receives himself is an easy mark for the deceivers.

Anyone can find fault with good qualities possessed by others.

NOTHING GAINED

Too many people have bumped up against disgrace just because they tried to dodge poverty.

SCHOOL DAYS

BY TEACHER

TESTING

Most adults well remember the inevitable Friday tests they were compelled to take while they were in school. Each week the tests were marked and then stacked in cupboards to be kept for inspection by the school administrators. Each week the marks or grades were religiously recorded in the teacher's record book. These marks formed the basis for the ratings that appeared on the monthly report card.

It was the teacher's aim in those days to help as many of her pupils as possible to pass the weekly tests. She felt that the success or failure of her teaching was measured by the results obtained in these tests. Therefore she drilled and drilled her class until the children sometimes learned by sheer rote. Parents, anxious to assist with their children's homework also tended to drill subject matter into the youngsters' heads by rote. As a result the youngster with a good memory had the least difficulty in passing the weekly tests. Often a nervous child and even some with very good brains failed to do well in the Friday examinations.

Memory is the lowest form of intelligence. The ability to reason correctly is the highest form of intelligence. Modern educators realize this and are no longer impressed with the necessity for memorizing facts solely for the purpose of passing tests. The modern trend has been away from this practice. This seems to alarm some parents, who cannot imagine how a teacher can possibly ascertain a child's progress without the weekly test.

Tests are still used in the schools, but they are used as a means to an end and not as the end itself. One kind of test is used for the purpose of determining the grade level upon which a child is functioning. This type of test is called an achievement test. By studying the results of this test the teacher knows whether or not the child is working up to grade, how far he may be below his grade expectancy or how much in advance he is working. Another type of test called diagnostic test is given so that teachers may learn the individual weaknesses of their pupils in any given subject.

The chief aim of modern test giving is to discover individual differences among children. By studying the results of these scientific tests teachers are better able to help the weak pupil to attain successful achievement and to inspire the bright child broaden his studies. The emphasis is upon the individual and his particular needs.

In addition to giving scientific tests teachers still give original quizzes and make out mid-term and end-term tests. Having learned through scientific testing the individual needs of her pupils the teacher is better able to compose examinations that more truly test the degree of progress of her pupils.

If parents are confused or doubtful of the testing program used in the schools their children attend they would do well to ask the school administrator to explain modern testing at one of the parents meetings. Parents will have no difficulty in understanding the situation once they receive the facts from an educator who is expert in the field of education.

THE ELEPHANT

An elephants skin measures from one-eighth of an inch to two inches in thickness. It takes a year to tan an elephant skin. Yet an ordinary fly can draw blood.

The average life span of an elephant is 30 years, and its average weight, three tons.

Elephants suffer from pneumonia, cold, consumption, tumors, flat feet and corns. When they become ill, their trainers take care of them exactly as if they were humans. If they have a cough, a steel instrument holds their mouths open while the trainers put giant pills down the animal's throats.

Elephants cannot stand cold. In chilly climates they wear special blankets that cover their ears, trunks and tails.

Elephants have to be taught to like peanuts after they come to civilized countries. They eat no peanuts in their native jungles.

Making the best of life to some people means getting the best of the other fellow.

● You have heard much talk of "miracle" drugs—but do you really know what Science has lately developed to relieve your own special condition? If you have not talked with your physician in recent months, we urge you to consult him without delay. He may have some wonderful news for you.

Often the remarkable feature of these new remedies is the speed with which they attack stubborn, chronic conditions. Even though you have often been defeated and discouraged in the past, do not give up hope. Medicine is making truly astonishing strides these days. True, some of the newer specialties are necessarily and temporarily a bit "high-priced." But if they possess the power to restore you quickly to health and well being, they will prove to be a very real economy.

And may we suggest that you bring your Doctor's prescriptions to this "Reliable" pharmacy. Our large prescription volume enables us to maintain ample stocks of all the newer specialties. Thus we can compound prescriptions promptly and precisely—you will find our prices uniformly fair. Your patronage is sincerely appreciated.

155,000 Forest Fires In '54

The Safety Services Department of the Central Chapter of Queens American Red Cross is cooperating with the Advertising Council and governmental agencies in their campaign to prevent forest fires this summer, according to Bertram H. Holmes of Jamaica, Chairman. All volunteer First Aid instructors and Water Safety instructors who are carrying on an extensive training program in central Queens have been urged to caution their students about the hazards of throwing lighted cigarettes in wooded areas and putting out all camp fires.

Holmes pointed out that last year there were 155,000 forest fires in the country which was a decrease over the preceding year, but still caused millions of dollars damage. He said, "We who live in the city get into the careless habit of throwing lighted cigarettes on city sidewalks but this bad habit should not be carried into forest areas. It is predicted that this year there will be increased travel in forest areas which presents more hazards. That is why I am urging all of our instructors to caution their students to be more careful than ever when in the country."

TROOP 4-119

Five-day camping will be a new feature at the Girl Scouts' 50-acre Camp High Rock on Staten Island accommodating 252 city children this summer. Mrs. Paul Rittenhouse, camp division chairman for the Greater New York Girl Scouts, announced today that this short term country camping is an experiment by the Council. During a six weeks' period, from July 3 to August 13, 42 Girl Scouts will be accommodated each week.

Campers will set up residence in the troop house units which have dormitories, kitchens, dining hall and recreation rooms and during the day time hours they will enjoy a complete outdoor program with groups of day campers. They will cook in the out-of-doors, learn fire building, arts and crafts and participate in camp councils.

The short term camp program has been devised for girls who may prefer a shorter camping experience away from home than the longer summer sessions which are provided at four Girl Scout country camps in Bear Mountain, Pleasantville and Towners, New York. It will also ease the overflow of applications which occur every summer for country camp reservations.

The short term camping at High Rock offers a combination of both day camp and country camp life. Scouts age seven through 17 are eligible. Applications are being filed now at the Greater New York Girl Scout headquarters, 133 East 62nd Street, New York. A moderate fee of $19 per week covers room, board, arts and crafts and other program materials. A professional camp director and trained counselors will be in charge of all sessions.

Berlin Tune Aids Scouts

Twin checks for $5,000 each were received from the "God Bless America" Fund, it was jointly announced today by the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York, and the Greater New York Councils, Boy Scouts of America.

The fund was established by Irving Berlin in 1949 on the royalties of his song "God Bless America" to be used for philanthropic purposes, and especially for children in low-income areas.

Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the Trustees of the Fund, in a letter to the two organizations said that his fellow Trustees, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Gene Tunney, joined with him in this token of appreciation for the work that the two Scout organizations were doing.

Mr. Swope emphasized in his letter that they would like the money used as in the past to aid underprivileged children in the so-called "Berlin" areas. By these, it is meant the congested neighborhoods such as produced Irving Berlin, Al Smith, and so many other great Americans.

The Girl Scout Council reports that with the first grant from the "God Bless America" Fund, they initiated this work in five areas in Bronx, and three in Brooklyn and four in Manhattan. Girl Scout membership in these sections has risen from 1000 in 1940 to nearly 5000 in 1954.

Fund contributions to the Boy Scouts have likewise aided to the growth of Boy Scout membership in largely similar areas. A 1954 grant was used to build the Irving Berlin Lodge at the Pouch Camp, New Dorp, Staten Island. This building is recently completed and will be dedicated by Mr. Berlin during the early part of June.

The Fund to date has distributed $222,500.

During the 1955 mid-semester period, the choir made a tour of eleven cities throughout New England, singing a concert each day.

In the choir are three members of Grace Church, Queens Village, they are:- Miss Ruth Schroeder, Queens Village; Miss Ruth Speh, Bellerose, and John Puella, Floral Park. Both Miss Schroeder and Miss Speh are preparing for teaching positions in the Christian Day School of the Lutheran Church, while Mr. Puella is preparing for the Holy Ministry.

ECONOMY COUNTS

Economy in the matter of time and money are the chief factors in reaching the pinnacle of success.

TIME WASTED

There isn't enough thought in some after dinner speeches to make a light lunch.

Lawyer: "Do you realize you are facing the electric chair?"

Prisoner: "I don't mind facing it. It's sitting down in it that gets me."

A farmer's wife had become mentally deranged. As they carried her out of the house in a straight jacket he said: "I sure don't know what got into her — she ain't been out of the kitchen in twenty-five years."

A man doesn't need bank references to borrow trouble.

BIG STOMACH

A hippopotamus has a stomach over 10 feet in length—so large that it can hold 400 or 500 pounds of food.

Wood Using Plants

There are nearly 600 primary wood using plants in Vt. They make lumber, pulp for paper, wood veneers, tool handles, bolt wood for turning spools, novelties, furniture and other uses.

The man who dreams he is wealthy and wakes up poor loses nothing but the sleep.

ALONG RADIO ROW

The best quiz program contestants are young children and oldsters. The authority for that piece of intelligence is genial Red Benson, emcee of Mutual's "Take A Number" quiz show. And Red should know. He's been doing quiz and question programs for many years. "Children and oldsters are uninhibited," says Red. "While folks between 16 and 60 are so conscious of putting their best foot forward they usually stumble all over the place."

NO VACATION

What looks like a vacation in the school of experience often turns out to be another lesson.

Goats native to Fernch Morocco have been known to climb trees to browse on lofty branches.

It is unfortunate for the man who has neither mind enough to speak well, nor judgment enough to be silent.

Education means developing the mind, not stuffing the memory.

B'NAI B'RITH

Independence Chapter No. 785

Starting on May 10, a series of eight lectures on "Parents Course in Vocational Guidance" will be given by Mr. Elias R. Kagan, a vocational guidance director of the B'nai B'rith-Federation Employment Service.

Mr. Kagan is a well known lecturer whose excellent course is recognized by well known educators including Dr. Krugman, head of child guidance for the New York City Board of Education.

This course promises to be of great assistance in a subject vital to us all; how to guide our child's career. For all of us who have wondered, as which parent hasn't, how we can best help our child choose his life's work, these lectures will be invaluable.

Everyone interested is invited to attend. There will be no charge.

The lectures will take place
May 10, 12, 17, 19, 26 and June 2, 7, and 9, all between the hours of 1 and 3 p.m. at the Bellerose Jewish Center in the Youth Activities Building on Union Tpke. and 254th Street.

For further information, please contact: Mrs. Edward Corsun, Chairman Vocational Guidance,
Fieldstone 3-9607.

There probably is plenty of room at the top, but the fellow who burns the midnight oil will never reach it.

To make both ends meet nowadays takes no end of money.

Youth Consultation Service

Mrs. Theodore Nehr, Persident of the Group Association of the Youth Consultation Service, Queens and Nassau Branch, at the meeting held at St. John's Church, Ozone Park, told the Groups that Scholarship Fund. One of the outstanding events of the meeting was a Panel Discussion by the Staff on "How Cases come to the Agency, how they are involved and how they can revolve in relation to a family."

Participants in the discussion were Mrs. Myron Hulse, Executive Secretary, Miss Katherine Jones and Miss Evelyn Fripps, Case-Workers. The National Conference

PTA NEWS

P. S. 133

Mrs. Jack Miller, Pres.

The April 18th meeting of the PTA of PS 133 proved to be very entertaining one. Children from the Third Grade put on a very fine Talent Show under the direction of Miss Picciano, Mrs.
Jager and Mrs. Vestner.

Mr. Glickman, our Principal, addressed the assembly and explained the new program for the lunch room. He also expressed gratification on the program, as set up in the school, for preparing the children for all eventualities. He pointed out that the program, which would shortly be seen, is an indication of how the school is attempting to broaden its area of teaching to include activities of interest other than the normal studies. This prepares the children to make use of their leisure time and makes well-rounded boys and girls.

A business meeting followed at the end of the Talent Show with refreshments being served to both children and parents.

The May meeting will be held on May 9th at 8:15 p.m. At this time there will be an election of officers for the coming year. Mr.
Glickman will also give his annual report at this meeting. This is an important meeting and it is imperative that all Fathers and Mothers attend!

UNDERINFLATION COSTLY

Continuous driving on tires that are only five pounds under-inflated may reduce their life as much as 32 percent, while underinflation of nine pounds can cause a 52 percent loss in tire life. So, check your tires at least once a week.

Motorists may expect to pay from $30 to $40 more for operating their cars in 1955 than they did last year, according to a survey of car costs prepared by the American Automobile Association.

Thirty Years Active Service With Walther League

Mr. George Speth of 84-25 258th Street, Bellerose is serving as Public Relations Chairman and is on the District Executive Board, for the 1955 International Walther League Convention, to be held in New York City, July 3-7, at the Statler Hotel.

For the past 30 years Mr. Speth has been active in the District Walther League, serving as Wheat Ridge manager, Stewardship Secretary, Business manager, Editor of various League publications, and has been on the Executive Board of the International League.

In his home church, Grace Lutheran, Rev. L. Wagner, pastor, he teaches Sunday School and is counselor for the Junior and Intermediate Leagues. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau, where he has been Treasurer for five years.

Mr. Speth works for Consolidated Edison Company in the Co-ordinating Bureau, as a senior office assistant. Of great help to him in all his activities is his wife, Elsa, and their two teenage children.

Coming or Going, It's Fire Engines First

It's final and official now: Fire engines have the right of way coming from fires as well as going to them.

There was some doubt for a while after Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. issued an order to this effect and was informed by Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley that it violated the city's traffic code. The code required the engines to observe traffic lights on the way back to their stations.

However, Mr. Wiley agreed to amend the code so that fire engines with few exceptions are regarded as always on emergency duty and privileged to pass through red lights. Mr. Cavanagh, in turn, agreed to amend his order to conform with this.

Meanwhile, police are stepping up enforcement of a ban on parking within 15 feet of a fire hydrant. Tickets calling for $15 fines will be placed on illegally parked cars in the "restricted parking" area south of 60th Street; $10 tickets will be issued elsewhere in the city.

Many a career is wrecked for lack of ambition to pole its boat through the rapids of life.

A NEW SALAD TREAT

Spring time is traditionally salad time in most of our homes. Here's a new salad—guacamole salad. It's pronounced gwah-kah-moh-leh—much easier to prepare than pronounce.

Jeanne Cagney, lovely fashion commentator on Mutual's "Queen for a Day" program, and our authority on south-of-the-border foods, has come up with this new recipe to serve with any type meal, as a main dish during the summer months or an appetizer for parties or buffet meals.

To make guacamole salad you need two fair-sized avocados or alligator pears, a can of Mexican tomato and green chili sauce, one medium-sized onion, a half lemon and mayonnaise.

Mash the avocados or alligator pears with a fork until they have a fairly creamy consistency. Add one finely chopped onion, the juice of the half lemon, and one half of the can of Mexican tomato and green chili sauce which has been drained. Mix well.

Then, add two teaspoons of mayonnaise, and mix. Salt and pepper to taste. You can vary the spiciness of this salad by the addition of more of the tomato and green chili sauce, or substituting one ripe tomato and regular peeled green chili.

Guacamole is generally served on lettuce with a light garnish of chopped onion or cheese.

For an added taste treat, use crisp browned tortillas (one can) for scoopers or dippers.
