ASSEMBLYMAN PRELLER SEEKS TO AID FISHING AND BOATING ENTHUSIASTS

Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, Queens Republican, today announced that he will apportion some of his time during the legislative recess to study the possibility of creating a Long Island Marine Authority to provide and maintain certain facilities for fishing, boating and other similar recreations.

"I propose to take up the cudgels for those who feel that their sport is just as important to them as skiing and golfing is to the ski and golf enthusiast."

The Preller proposal will be geared to fill a public need in the marine area just as the Whiteface Mountain Authority is to skiing and the Bethpage Pary Authority is to golfing.

"I find that our marinas on Long Island have not kept pace with the increasing public interest in boating nor have we done much about replacing new fishing areas and piers for the fisherman whose sport has been curtailed by the vast number of new bridges and causeways now in use in the vicinity of his old fishing haunts."

Assemblyman Preller also recommends that an Authority study the movements and seasonal concentrations of fish and general environment conditions; the most fishing piers; floating docks and similar structures; as well as the acquisition of access sites.

FREE FOLDER LISTS MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND EVENTS IN NEW YORK

An attractive four page folder, listing events in New York City over the Memorial Day holiday weekend, is offered free by the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau to anyone planning a late spring vacation trip to the city.

Highlights of the weekend activities will be the traditional Memorial Day parade on Friday, and the colorful Greenwich Village Outdoor Art Show. Sports fans will have an opportunity to see the New York Yankees play Washington in a double header, cheer the trotters at Roosevelt Raceway, see flat racing at Belmont Park or watch the International Seamen's Life Boat Races at Brooklyn Narrows. Also, the bowlers can see or participate in the first Summer Festival Individual Bowling Tournament which will be held at three New York City bowling alleys.

Music, art, flower shows, suggestions for sightseeing and many other ideas for an exciting vacation weekend are included in the Visitors Bureau folder. To obtain a copy, write the Bureau at 90 East 42nd Street, New York City 17.

"Right now, there is not an ocean fishing pier of any kind on the South Shore of Long Island."

The Preller plan, at this stage, comprehends an Authority which is wholly or partially self-liquidating through the charging of fees, sales of concession, rental of fishing equipment, etc.

Rifle and Archery ranges are also a possibility under the assemblyman's plan for at present there is not one publicly owned rifle range and only a few archery ranges which meet the standards of national associations.

SCHOOL DAYS

BY TEACHER

PUPIL RESPONSIBILITY

Pupils and their parents do a lot of chirping about the rights of school age children, but too few are concerned with the responsibilities of boys and girls toward their school and school life. Teachers, school administrators, childless taxpayers and society in general also have rights which must be recognized by children attending school. It is the moral and legal obligation of parents to see to it that their children assume the responsibility of recognizing the rights of others. School administrators, teachers and taxpayers have the right to expect pupils to make the most of the educational facilities provided. They have the right to expect pupils not to interfere with instruction and not to waste time by creating situations that demand an inordinate amount of disciplinary attention.

Years ago the White House Conference on Education stated that every child has the right to as much education as he is able to assimilate. The ability to assimilate varies with the intelligence quotient of the individual. Therefore the slow learner progresses at a low rate of speed and can only assimilate a small amount of knowledge, while the bright child learns at a greater rate of speed with unlimited horizons as to the amount of knowledge he may be capable of acquiring. It is therefore the duty and responsibility of every pupil to acquire as much knowledge as he is able to assimilate. It is his job to work up to his individual capacity for learning.

How are pupils responding to this responsibility? In far too many cases the response is wholly inadequate.

Many students, who are intelligent enough to know better, just sit in school killing time. They simply refuse to give their attention to anything that requires the use of gray matter. They hate to burden their brains with the effort needed to think constructively. For many years teachers instructing the lower grades have been required to literally entertain pupils in order to get their attention on a lesson. The game aspect of learning has been so overplayed that even teen-agers expect to be conjoled into learning. Too few children are interested in learning for learning's sake. Indiscriminate television viewing is also, no doubt partly responsible for this situation. Television is a marvelous medium of education, but unless it is coupled with the art of logical thinking the viewer is easily brainwashed and yields his right to think for himself.

One of the best motivations for a child's learning should be the fear of his father's ire should the pupil fail to take home satisfactory reports of his academic progress and school behavior. By demanding passing grades from his school age children a parent is instilling in them the idea that learning is their responsibility.

The idea that school is a place solely for laughs or that it is a quasi-penitentiary to which students have been sentenced until they have fulfilled the requirements of the educational laws of their respective states must be suppressed by parents. In some way they must inculcate in their children the ideal that education is not only a right of youth, but is also a sacred privilege, which must not be desecrated by inattention to instruction, by overt acts of classroom behavior, by disrespect for authority and utter disregard for the rights of others to learn. Pupils must also learn that freedom from work is not a prerogative of childhood and adolescence. They must be made cognizant to the fact that a certain amount of work is required of all persons, who have reached the age of reason and that the work of youth is his responsibility to learn those facts and skills at school, which prepare him to become a self-supporting citizen, a law abiding adult and a contributing member of society. Where this lesson has been learned there need be little fear of juvenile delinquency.

Give your worries a little time and they'll settle themselves.

QUEENS PALSY AGENCY URGES BOARD OF ESTIMATE TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR CHILDREN'S REHABILITATION SER.

The Board of Estimates was urged today by United Cerebral Palsy of Queens to include necessary funds in the 1958-59 City budget for the Children's Rehabilitation Service of Queens General Hospital.

Mr. Ruby Goldenberg of Far Rockaway, president of the Queens Palsy Agency requested that the Board of Estimate provide the $42,000 needed to operate the program during the coming year.

Initiated in 1953 with funds provided by the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children, the Children's Rehabilitation Service has provided an invaluable demonstration of the value of a comprehensive medical rehabilitation service for Queens children, according to Mr. Goldenberg. "It would be a tragedy," said Mr. Goldenberg, "if the City afiled in its its responsibility to the thousands of handicapped children in Queens. The termination of the Children's Rehabilitation Service would leave the Borough of Queens without an adequate diagnostic and treatment center for handicapped children."

In the past year, according to Joseph Daly of Forest Hills, Program Vice-President of the Queens Palsy organization, over 150 cerebral palsied yugsters have been treated by the Children's Rehabilitation Service. "The medical, psycho-social and therapeutic services," he said, "have 150 cerebral palsied youngsters on the path to a more normal life. The services cannot be measured in dollars and cents. The fact that the Department of Hospitals recommended earlier in the year that the Children's Rehabilitation Service be taken over by the City is proof of the great value of the service."

NINTH ANNUAL FLAG PRESENTATION

Over 1,000 guests and representatives from Queens 990 Girl Scout Troops attended the ninth annual Gertz Flag Presentation at Lost Battalion Hall, 93-25 Queens Boulevard, Elmhurst on Saturday, April 19, from 12-3 p.m. 107 new Troops, formed in Queens during the past year, received their flags from Mr. Jay Donovan, Personnel Director of Gertz's three Queens stores.

Mrs. A. Alfred Solomon, 769 Empire Avenue, Far Rockaway, a member of the Board of Directors of the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York, was Chairman of the Day.

Mariner Troop 4-456

Mrs. Neher - Skipper

The New York-New Jersey Senior Conference was held the week of April 7th. We had a guest of the conference staying with us for the week from Buffalo. The guest and her hostess were invited to the home of Mrs. Irving Berlin for a buffet supper on Monday night. On Tuesday the girls went to the Hotel New Yorker in the morning for a conference of all the visiting guests and their hostesses. After a delicious lunch at the Hotel New Yorker the girls were taken to visit a Girl Scout troop in Chinatown and a tour of Chinatown. On Wednesday all the girls from our troop wore their new Mariner Uniforms and attended the city-wide Senior Conference. Three of our Mariners, Dorothy Peitler, Dianne Deutsch and Priscilla Neher were selected to be the Mariner unit of the Color-guard. These girls made such a nice appearance and carried themselves so well that they were commended by many of the officials at the Conference. As a result, we have been asked to send three of the girls from our troop to a Convention at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria where the girls will act as pages, and be treated to lunch and dinner.

We are starting a horseback riding course on Saturday, May 24th, and will go horseback riding every Saturday for nine weeks. We will combine these expeditions with cook-outs and campcraft skills to enable the girls to work on their Five-Point Program.

We also plan to go swimming every week this summer so the girls will pass their Mariner requirements.

Troop 4-238

Mrs. Grodenchik-Leader

Our troop has been very busy and have many activities planned. On April 18th we visited a dairy in Maspeth as part of our work on our Homemaking Badge. Our prize winning window display was exhibited at the Rally at Lost Battalion Hall on April 19th. We are planning to see South Pacific on May 3rd and a cookout at Alley Pond Park on May 10th.

Troop 4-358

Mrs. McDougall-Leader

Our troop welcomed two new Brownies Carol Martini and Julia Snyder. On March 25th a "Talent Show" was planned to entertain the parents and leaders with the guidance and help as prop men, etc., of two Senior Scouts Patricia Popp and Louise Ehlers. After the show refreshments were served to all. The show consisted of sixteen acts and a great deal of talent displayed.

Our Juliette Low representative, Sandra Holm, reported on the interesting day they all had at the recent rally.

Troop 4-256

Mrs. Rizzutto-Leader

Our co-leader, Mrs. Bantel, has been very busy instructing the girls, in her home, on the Drawing and Painting Badge, and some of the girls show quite a bit of artistic talent.

Thanks to the ingenuity of Mrs. Farley, several girls are working on the Child Care and Seamstress Badges simultaneously.

Girls doing the Cook Badge have had a series of instructions at Mrs. Rizzuto's home. The girls planned, prepared, cooked, ate and cleaned up very efficiently.

We are very busy with plans for our Mother's Tea which will be held on June 5th.

My particular thanks to my co-leaders, Roslyn Solomon and Ann Bantel for keeping our troop running along as usual during my several weeks' absence from meetings due to my Dad's illness. I returned to meetings to find every thing on an even keel and no loose ends. They are co-leaders in the true sense of the word.

SALUTE TO SPRING

Queens Girl Scouts will herald the City's "Salute to Spring" by landscaping the area surrounding the Queens Girl Scout Field Office at 87-80 153rd Street, Jamaica.

With advice and assistance from the Queens Botanical Garden Society, these Scout conservationists and part-time gardeners will plant trees, shrubs and flowers around their borough headquarters.

40 Scouts have volunteered their services in order to earn proficiency badges in Agriculture and Community Life fields of interest. The Project will extend from April through next November.

Brownie Troop 4-202

Leader Mrs. Choffei

The Brownies of Troop 4-202 will hold a Mother's Tea and Amateur Hour on May 19th at 3:00 o'clock in the House of Hope Church. We cordially invite all mother's of the troop to attend.

People who complain they never had a chance probably would be afraid to take a chance if they had the opportunity.

P.T.A. meeting held April 14, 1958 at 8:30 P.M. at P.S. 133.

After Regular Business the Nominating Committee reported the names of the candidates for office of President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Assistant Corresponding Secretary, Financial Secretary, and Treasurer for 1958-1959 term. demned) to B (Morally Objectionable in Part for All). The reason for the objection now is as follows: Suggestive dancing and costuming.

Substantial revisions made in this picture warrant this change of classification. This classification, however, is only applicable to prints shown in continental U.S.A.

Blood of Dracula — Objection: This film tends to give credence to an erroneous philosophy of the origin of human life.

Confessions of Felix Krull—(Ger.) — Objection: This film contains material morally unsuitable for entertainment motion picture audiences; suggestive situations.

Panic in the Parlor (Br.) — Objection: Suggestive costuming.

Dragstrip Riot—Objection: This film, purporting to present in the guise of entertainment a social problem involving juveniles, contains negative elements (brutality, suggestiveness, lack of parental respect) which tend to destroy a constructive message.

Girls on the Loose— Objection: Low moral tone; suggestive costuming.

I Was a Teenage Frankenstein —Objection: Excessive brutality.

Reform School Girl—Objection: Excessive brutality; suggestive costuming.

"HOLY TRINITY SPORTS PROGRAM" CONTINUES IN HIGH GEAR"

The boy's basketball team of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Bellerose, under the coaching of Pete Sebekos finished third in the Eastern Queens Protestant Church Basketball League. The boys fought hard but were handicapped by the loss of some of the regulars from last season. The Senior girls team under the coaching of Bob Barnett came out on top in section B to win the championship of the section. However, on the playoff for the league championship they lost by two points to Hollis Presby girls. Captained by Lorraine Heim, the girls after a shaky start finished in fine form. High scorer was Lorraine Heim. The Junior girls under the direction of Ernie Schwabe had a .500 season, winning four and losing four against senior girls teams. Captained by Jackie House and Joann Ross the girls held their own very well and are looking forward to another good season next year. Now that the basketball season is over thoughts are turning toward softball. All of the Senior girls are back and will enter the league again under the direction of Ernie Schwabe. The boys will again be led by Ed Green and they too, are look-

NEW COLORS PRESENTED TO CHURCH

Officers and Juniorettes representing the three units of Court St. Gregory the Great Catholic Daughters of America present Colors and Altar Linens to St. Gregory's Church, Bellerose. Father Brown accepts the gift on behalf of Rev. Daniel J. Halloran, Pastor of the church.

GOOD AIM

Remember, a man must be a crack shot even after he selects his target in life.

Well-arranged time is the surest mark of a well-arranged mind.

Even the man with an iron will seldom leaves one that a good lawyer cannot break.

Many things are fixed—but very few are fixed right.

DOWNED WIRES MOTORIST HAZARD

One of the most frightening things that can happen to a motorist is to have a live electric wire fall on his car. Sparks may crackle and dance; sheets of flame may surge around the car.

Frightening? Yes.

Dangerous? Not if you know what to do.

Motorists owe it to themselves to know how to cope with such a situation. It is not an uncommon one. Heavy spring rains and high winds can rip down power lines as easily as a heavy snow. Falling lines are especially common during the "hurricane season" which has come in recent years with clock-like regularity every fall.

The important thing to remember is:

Stay put. Don't try to get out of the car.

Rubber tires insulate a car and keep the current from becoming grounded. If you try to get out, your body may complete the circuit and send through a tremendous surge of current.

It is impossible to tell whether a wire is "live" or "dead" by looking at it. Don't assume that a spark-less wire carries no current.

Sit tight and wait. Help can be summoned by sounding the horn. As a safety measure, use a wooden or plastic object to depress the horn button or ring.

Stay away from wires inside the car. Don't touch door handles or the dashboard.

Wait until a utility company employee arrives to cut the wire. Only then is it safe to leave the car.

—New York Motorist

Court St. Gregory the Great, Catholic Daughters of America, in conjunction with their recent successful card party, held a Poster Contest for the children of St. Gregory's School.

The Posters were placed in the neighborhood stores to advertize the card party, and they were all so good that it was difficult for the Sisters to decide on winners.

Patricia Donor, and Frederick Sawyer are the lucky ones.
